to me —— he must be really good!! I'm also surprised that you didn't tell him yet about me —— would that take too much nerve? —— or was it really very serious and require some thought on your part?

I wish you would "keep me posted" on your "progress" with the poor fellow.

That must have been some vacation!! I'll bet it was quite cozy when the "boy" visited you, wasn't it?

Did Richie have a furlough, or just a few days leave? How is he doing? Speaking about the Navy —— I received a letter from Tarky McGuire today. It took my card three months to reach him. He seems to be doing very well.

I wrote to Rose the other night. I don't know whether she's returned from Arkansas yet, but I took the chance and mailed it to her usual address.
